Disclosure Statement

Thank you for choosing Counseling West Seattle for services. The following information is for Eric Mulholland and is provided to help you determine if his services as a therapist match your needs as a client. It contains information about his therapeutic philosophy, education, and fees, as well as your rights as a client. Please read the following and ask any questions that would help you determine whether working with him at Counseling West Seattle would be a good choice for you.

Introduction

My name is Eric Mulholland and I am a Mental Health Counselor Associate licensed by the state of Washington (MC61303139). I did my undergraduate studies at the University of LaVerne in Southern California where I specialized in educational theatre. In recent years, I completed my MA at the European Graduate School in Saas-Fee, Switzerland. In the years between my undergraduate and graduate studies, I completed training as a licensed massage therapist (LMP) at the Port Townsend School of Massage. In addition, I trained as a facilitator with Partners for Youth Empowerment and led youth programs and trainings for youth workers internationally.

Treatment Philosophy

Thank you for taking time to learn more about my approach to counseling. I've always been curious about people and their stories. Since childhood, I loved listening to people share how they navigate life's challenges and the ways they connect to the world around them. Later in life, I began working internationally with youth and adults which taught me that human suffering is universal. I believe that we need people to help us make meaning from our experiences.

The ways in which I work with clients depends on the person and their situation. My primary approach is Person-Centered, to be present with the client in a safe space where deep listening happens, so that what wants to be expressed can be shared in a warm and judgement free environment. Together, we may decide to use approaches from my training in Expressive Arts Therapy (EXA), a solution-focused therapy, where clients use art materials to explore difficulty. The object is to use the art-making process as a tool to locate inner resources within oneself for meeting challenges, making change, and awakening possibility. I also use Somatic Embodiment and Self-regulation techniques, and Mindfulness based practices to foster a body-centered awareness for cultivating balance and peace of mind.

My overall aim is to provide a therapeutic environment that is transparent, supportive, and compassionate; focusing on my clients, their goals, and where they are at during each session.

Associate Practice

I am a Mental Health Counselor Associate, currently in the process of obtaining full licensure. As an associate, I practice under the supervision of Toni Napoli, who may be contacted by email at tonin@counselingwestseattle.com or by phone at (206) 387-2767.

6957 California Ave SW, Seattle, WA 98136 - (206) 938-5947 – ericm@counselingwestseattle.com

Appointments and Fees

Therapy sessions are scheduled as follows: Intakes of 60-75 minutes at $215.00 and ongoing Regular Sessions of 50-60 minutes at $200.00. Services provided involving legal circumstances or in accordance with court orders are charged at $250 per hour. If I have to reschedule, you will be given 24 hours' notice if I have to reschedule, except in case of an emergency. If you are unable to keep your appointment for any reason, please contact Eric Mulholland at 425-736-6764. You must give at least 24 hours advance notice, or you will be charged the full amount. Please be aware that insurance companies do not reimburse for missed sessions. Payment is due at the time of service.

Occasionally I find it necessary to increase my fee. If this occurs during your treatment, you will be given one month's notice before the increase. If you have any questions regarding payments, I encourage you to ask.

Insurance Information

It is your responsibility to discover benefits prior to services. The contact number and/or website address are on the back side of your insurance card. Every insurance plan is unique, therefore when you contact member services you will want to ask specifically for outpatient mental health benefits, in network and/or out of network, number of visits allowed, annual deductible, and co-payment and/or co-insurance amounts, if applicable. Upon first scheduling, you will be asked for the details of your insurance plan's outpatient mental health benefits. If you do not have this information at the time of scheduling, a $150 pre-payment will be assessed in order to cover your portion of the cost, which will be refunded to you if no co-payment is required by your insurance. You may choose to delay scheduling until you have your insurance information, if you prefer not to place a pre-payment.

Confidentiality

The information exchanged between us is confidential, and your right to and the limits of confidentiality are discussed below. In most cases, a signed RELEASE OF INFORMATION (ROI) is required before healthcare information can be disclosed. There are certain circumstances under which information may be released only when a signed ROI is provided. I may also release information to an insurance company or a health care provider who is providing treatment to you if that person needs to know that information. Additionally, the law dictates that in some circumstances your signed authorization MAY NOT be required to release information. These cases are as follows:

- You are considered a harm to yourself and/or another person
- There is cause to believe a minor has been or may be abused or neglected
- There is cause to believe an elder or person with a disability has been or may be abused, neglected, or subject to financial exploitation, and/or
- Your records are requested by a valid subpoena or court order

Client Records

I do keep brief, written records of your treatment and the services that I provide to you. Under law, you may ask me to see and copy that record. You may ask me to correct the record, and I will not disclose your records to others unless you direct me to do so or unless the law authorizes or compels me to do so. If you request records or written information to be released there will be a fee of $28.00 for paperwork and time spent.

Your Legal Protection

Counseling can help to resolve conflicts, improve relationships, create change, and reduce/relieve distressing symptoms. It involves exploring, processing, and discussing concerns and problems which sometimes may elicit uncomfortable feelings, generate painful memories, or create vulnerability. While this is normal, understandable, and a necessary part of therapy, your participation is completely voluntary and you may terminate services at any time. Additionally, you have the right to receive appropriate care and treatment, and to refuse any proposed treatment.

The State of Washington has asked all therapists to convey the following information to their clients:

“Counselors practicing counseling for a fee must be registered or licensed with the department of licensing for the protection of public health and safety. Registration of an individual with the department does not include recognition of any practice standards, nor necessarily implies the effectiveness of any treatment.”

The State of Washington has also asked all therapists to list the following contact information for the Washington Department of Health, in case you wish to file a complaint for unprofessional conduct as outlined by RCW 18.130.180:

Department of Health
